

Gawsworth Car Show 8th May 2020 by Mike Lynch

Well it didn't happen! Early on the morning of the 8th I sent an email to Richard and Colin.....

Hi Chaps,

We hope you're keeping well – Allyson and I are fine and finding things to occupy ourselves. Today would have been the day....

For digging a rut with the chassis on the track up to the bluebell woods.

For protecting our territory from the MG's

For taking a run at the little hill to get to the top – what no mud and snow nobbly tyres again Colin?

For everyone's Mog to be eclipsed by Smiffy's.

For the cars to get filled with bits off the trees.

For spilling half the tea and coffee on the walk back from the café.

For asking the guy on the antique bits and pieces stall how much the Gardner badge is – price keeps on going up and he never sells it!

Ah well, Stay safe and well!

Cheers

Mike & Allyson

Lord Unstone forwarded this on to Rupert Richards at Gawsworth – see below and the lovely picture

Dear Richard,

Many thanks for your email and what a splendid poem, how it made me smile.

We do thank you and Tormog for all the happy days amongst the bluebells and hope for many more in years to come.

Very best wishes,

Rupert

Hi Rupert and co...
I received this from one of my fellow Morgan Club members...

Today would have been the day...
For digging a rut with the chassis on the track up to the bluebell woods.
For protecting our territory from the MG's
For taking a run at the little hill to get to the top – what no mud and snow nobbly tyres again Colin?
For everyone's Mog to be eclipsed by Smiffy's.
For the cars to get filled with bits off the trees.
For spilling half the tea and coffee on the walk back from the café.
For asking the guy on the antique bits and pieces stall how much the Gardner badge is – price keeps on going up and he never sells it!

We in Tormog miss what is classed as one of the best days out of the year, and hope to be with you again while it is still warm and sunny!

Cheers all,

I hadn't realised I was a poet!

Tormoggers – stay safe and well

Cheers

Mike & Allyson
